THE LATEST.

Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks began his two days' swing through Kentucky yesterday, speaking at nine points. He discussed fair elections and pleaded for votes for the Republican ticket. At Barbourville he was introduced to Caleb Powers' mother as the friend of William S. Taylor, and at Corbin the father of Charles Finley was presented to the Vice President.

The 10,000 cotton and freight handlers of New Orleans who returned to work yesterday went on another strike which lasted for four and a half hours, owing to a demand made by the Illinois Central that the returning men sign a three years' contract. The railroad withdrew its demand at the solicitation of the Mayor and the men returned to work.

Judge S. W. Hager, in his speeches at Mayfield and Wingo yesterday, discussed the charge made by the Republican nominee for Governor that Kentucky was forty years behind the times, and said that if Kentucky was not good enough to suit his opponent, Indiana was always ready to welcome Kentucky Republicans.

The grand jury at Lexington, in its final report yesterday, said that it could bring no indictments against persons charged with the buying of election certificates because the law provided no penalty. Indictments against persons whose names were not made public were returned charging them with registration crimes.

The west-bound passenger train of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad was wrecked at Klondike, near Mt. Sterling. Three of the coaches ran off the track and overturned. The express messenger, Albert Chapman, was badly injured and the passengers were shaken up and bruised.

The Census Bureau yesterday made public the result of the reports of its special agents on the quantity of cotton of this year's crop which had been ginned up to the 18th inst., showing 4,089,338 bales, as compared with 4,831,821 bales ginned to the same time last year.

Dr. Walter R. Gillette, former vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, who was convicted of perjury and remanded to the Tombs, was denied bail yesterday by Justice Dowling in the New York Supreme Court.

A cablegram from London to the Maritime Exchange at Baltimore, says that the British steamer Pamlico, from Baltimore for Rotterdam, was abandoned in latitude 47 north, longitude 22 west. The crew was saved.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, wife of a prominent Baptist minister, poured oil on her night dress and lighted it, dying as the result of the burns. Mrs. Hutchinson was recently paroled from the Western Infirmary Asylum.

Dispatches to the mercantile agencies indicate a steady distribution of reasonable merchandise at retail and transporting companies are rushed with shipments on which prompt delivery is desired.

Chairman Ernst, of the Kentucky Republican State Central Committee, is in Washington to confer with the President about the appointment of a collector of Internal Revenue for the sixth district.

The physicians in attendance on Emperor Francis Joseph yesterday decided not to issue any further bulletins as they consider the emperor's convalescence progressing satisfactorily.

The financial situation in New York continues to improve. Several small banks closed their doors yesterday, but this action had no effect upon the larger financial circles.

Three armed men held up a freight train within five miles of Los Angeles, Cal., wounded one of the train crew, robbed them of $250 and two watches and made their escape.

It is understood that King Alfonso, of Spain, will travel incognito to London, where he will be examined by a specialist in tuberculosis, from which disease his father died.

At Huntsville, Ala., yesterday E. G. Chandler, J. C. Thompson and Morris Alder, all of Birmingham, were appointed receivers for the Southern Steel Company.

Washington friends of Vice President Fairbanks say that he will be in the race for the Republican presidential nomination to the finish.

A hung jury resulted in the trial of Walter Day, former State Treasurer, who is accused of forging the name of his uncle, Floyd Day.

Lt. Gov. Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, of New York, delivered an address yesterday at the Georgia State Fair, Atlanta.

LITTLE BANKS FEELING PINCH

Several of Them Forced To Close Their Doors.

Amounts Involved Do Not Effect General Situation.

Day in New York Marked By Many Favorable Features.

FALL IN FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

New York, Oct. 25.—Another nerve-racking day has passed, but the financial institutions of New York have shown extraordinary power of resistance. While several minor institutions have been forced to close, yet two things should be said about them. First, that the amount involved was not so great as to exert any marked influence on the general situation, as these banks were in residential quarters and did not come into touch with the larger financial institutions; and second, there is every reason to believe that these banks and trust companies are solvent, and that their difficulties will prove only temporary and are due to inability to secure ready cash.

Of course, the cessation of business by these companies caused trouble to many persons, but not as great as it might seem, as the depositors are, for the most part, located in the well-to-do quarters of the city.

Require Notice of Withdrawals.

In the light of the general excitement the savings banks thought it wise to put into effect the rule requiring thirty to sixty days' notice for withdrawals. The savings banks, if they continued to make payments, would be obliged to withdraw funds from national banks, thereby causing an additional strain on the general situation. There was not the slightest hint that any of the savings institutions was in anything but the soundest condition, and it was pointed out that the savings banks of this State are so restricted by law in investing their money that there can be no question that all of the securities in their possession are of good value.

Banks Which Closed.

The institutions which closed their doors to-day with the sums due depositors were: The United States Exchange Bank, Harlem, $900,000; International Trust Company, about $100,000; the Brooklyn Bank, $2,200,000; the Williamsburg Trust Company, Brooklyn, $7,500,000, and the First National Bank, Brooklyn, $8,500,000. The First National Bank of Brooklyn, the Williamsburg Trust Company and the International Trust Company were allied institutions. None of these companies had any important business connections with the larger banks.

Favorable Features.

On the other hand, some favorable features marked the day. The Trust Company of America and the Lincoln Trust Company, the organizations which have suffered most from runs, have been slowly paying their depositors, and closed to-day with all demands met. In the case of the Trust Company of America the run has well nigh spent its force, as the great bulk of the depositors have been paid off. At the close of business there were many in line at the Lincoln Trust Company, but also there was a marked reduction in the number of anxious depositors.

The most favorable incident of the day was that the Stock Exchange was provided with funds ample to meet its immediate necessities by a money pool headed by J. P. Morgan, which sent in about $15,000,000 this afternoon. The stock market had held relatively firm all day, but when the money pool was offered in the loan corner there was an immediate upturn, and the market closed strong at the best prices of the day. As all of the loans made to-day hold over until Monday, the Stock Exchange situation will not be a banking factor to-morrow. This afternoon Clark Williams, the newly appointed State superintendent of banking, affirmed the solvency of the local institutions.

Alarmist Reports.

There was the usual crop of alarmist reports afloat during the day, one of them that a large dry goods house was seriously involved, but this, as well as other similar rumors, proved false. A further encouraging development was the decision to settle the balances to issue clearing-house certificates, probably to-morrow. There will be a full meeting of the Clearing-house Association to-morrow morning to consider the issuance of these certificates. The immediate effect of this will be to enable the banks to settle the balances between themselves with these certificates, and thereby release large sums for regular needs.

The decision to issue clearing-house certificates is likely to end any further anxiety in regard to the supply of currency. The certificates will be issued as usual, only upon the deposit with the Clearing-house Committee of acceptable securities, and only in such amounts as the Clearing-house Committee shall approve. But in the case of a bank whose affairs are sound there will be no arbitrary limit on the assistance of this sort.

Former Issues of Certificates.

The first issue of clearing-house certificates was in 1860, and there were several more during the war. Other issues occurred in 1873 and 1884. The last occasion on which they were used was in 1893. The clearing-house certificates are practically a guarantee by all banks in the clearing-house that the certificates shall be redeemed at par, but the clearing-house banks are protected against loss by the fact that first-class securities, either commercial paper or stocks and bonds, are required before the certificates are issued. The certificates are used only between banks. They do not appear in general circulation, but by relieving the banks of the strain of large deposit balances they enable them to keep their cash reserves comparatively intact.

It is believed by competent bankers that an issue of $50,000,000 will be the outside requirement at present. It is believed also that the mere fact that they are to be issued will so far restore confidence that runs upon banks will cease, so that it will not be necessary to keep certificates outstanding for any considerable time. Already the strong city banks are receiving large deposits from persons who have withdrawn their money from institutions which have fallen under suspicion. This does not preclude the fact that considerable amounts have been put in deposit boxes and thereby withdrawn from circulation, but it is believed that the clearing-house certificates will be used only to the extent of the need.

NO PENALTY FOR BUYING CERTIFICATES

PAYETTE GRAND JURY EXPLAINS LACK OF TRUE BILLS.

NAMES OF THOSE INDICTED NOT MADE PUBLIC.

INVESTIGATED REGISTRATION.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Numerous charges and counter charges of illegal registration have been made during the present campaign and political workers have been busy since the first of October comparing registration lists and preparing matter for presentation to the grand jury. This body, which has been in session since the first Monday of the month, made its final report to-day. An extended report was made of the efforts to get at the alleged infamies of the last registration, and the complaint explains why comparatively few true bills are found in registration cases and why men guilty of buying and selling registration certificates were not indicted.

This part of the report follows: "We would further report that we have investigated numerous cases of illegal registration and numerous cases of giving false bills in the registration, and in all cases where we could get the necessary proof we have found indictments, but the failure of the grand jury to find indictments in many cases has been due to the fact that we were unable to get any evidence by which those persons guilty of illegal registration could be identified. We have been advised by the Attorney for the Commonwealth, and in this connection of the law the attorneys for both political organizations of the city concur, that the law providing for the issuing of registration certificates does not fix any penalty for the sale or purchase of such certificates, and in this particular the law itself is vicious and defective. We have, therefore, been powerless to correct many of the glaring irregularities and frauds which have been presented to us. We make this statement in justice to ourselves and to the public, who have the right to have all persons guilty of election frauds prosecuted and punished. Having completed our labors, we respectfully ask the court to be lenient to the persons who have been indicted. Respectfully submitted, "WICKLIFF PRESTON, Foreman."

An effort was made to learn the number of registration indictments and the names of those against whom the true bills are returned, but the accused persons are all without the custody of the court and the names are not disclosed. The Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum is reported in good order, but it is recommended that the next Legislature be asked to erect additional negro quarters as the present facilities are inadequate.

POURS OIL OVER DRESS AND SETS IT AFIRE

HORRIBLE DEATH OF MRS. C. E. HUTCHINSON, JUST RELEASED FROM INSANE ASYLUM.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, wife of the Rev. Mr. Hutchinson, a well-known Baptist minister of Howell, this county, died to-night in frightful agony. She had been released on parole Monday from the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane, and was at her home. An attendant left the room for a few moments and Mrs. Hutchinson poured the coal oil from a lamp over her night dress and set herself on fire. She was wrapped in flames in a moment, and when aid reached her every part of her body had been burned. She was forty years of age.

KING ALFONSO HAS TUBERCULOSIS

UNDERSTOOD THAT HE WILL TRAVEL INCognito TO LONDON.

Madrid, Oct. 25.—The alarming reports circulated earlier in the month regarding the health of King Alfonso appear confirmed. It is understood that the King, who will travel incognito as Duke of Toledo during his coming visit to London, will be examined by a specialist in tuberculosis, from which disease his father died.

The King's open-air life has thus far kept the hereditary disposition in abeyance. An operation was performed on him recently in the hope of checking the growing symptoms of consumption.

VEILED THREATS TO GROWERS

Made By Some Members of the "Peaceful Army."

"If Your Barn Is Burned It Is Your Own Fault."

Alarm Among Farmers of Daviess County.

ORGANIZE FOR PROTECTION.

Owensboro, Ky., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—The campaign of "Peaceful Invasion" by the army of Equity continues and a situation is being brought about which is in a degree alarming. It was stated from various parts of the county to-day that the Equity delegates were not only requesting the growers to pool their tobacco but were making a sort of veiled threat, telling them that if they do not pool their tobacco in a given time, usually less than forty-eight hours, they must suffer the consequences.

In some cases it is reported that the members of the Equity delegation have said to the growers who declined to pool: "If your barn is burned it is your own fault." Many growers who have been visited by delegations have refused to sign the pooling pledge and in several sections of the county there is a feeling of alarm. Some of the farmers have announced their intention of arming themselves and guarding their property.

Farmers in Conference.

This afternoon there was a conference of prominent farmers at the residence of one of the leading citizens of Owensboro, who is also a farmer. These men are not members of the American Society of Equity. It is understood that they discussed the advisability of forming a protective association. It is said, also, that the growers will create a fund and in the event any violence is committed or efforts will be commenced to establish the identity of the wrongdoers. For this purpose it is understood that detectives will be employed.

Among those who participated in the meeting this afternoon were a number of the most substantial farmers of Daviess county.

The "day riders" are returning to Owensboro to-night and another meeting is being held at the courthouse and reports on the day's work are being received.

How One Farmer Signed.

As an evidence of the terror throughout certain sections of the county, one of the "riders" tells of visiting the place of a young farmer in the southern part of the county. The farmer was plowing in his field. When he saw the men dismounting from their horses and climbing his fence he left his team and ran to the hills. After much searching they found him hiding in a gully. He begged piteously, and seemed to be afraid he would be whipped for running away. When he was told that they only wanted him to sign a contract turning his tobacco over to the Louisville Warehouse Company, he readily affixed his signature to the paper.

The majority of the men who have been riding over Daviess county are from the adjoining counties and are strangers. One of the riders requested that a "squad of vicious-looking men be sent with him" to see a grower who has always declined to pool his tobacco. A "squad" of the "Peaceful Army of Invasion" called at the home of the most prominent farmer of this county this morning. This farmer raises only a small crop of tobacco, but has never pooled it. He told the riding delegates that after they had fought the trust so persistently for the past few years he did not think it manly in their going to the trust houses at the present day and asking them to withdraw all competition.

Cannot Get Insurance.

This farmer stated that the farmers of Daviess county cannot get any insurance on their tobacco, and must either pool or prepare to defend their property themselves, and many of them need the money their crops will bring as soon as marketed.

"These delegates," he said, "talk very fair and nice, but when they run up against a man fearless enough to tell them he will not pool, their ultimatum is, 'The people of Hancock will not stand for the people of Daviess county selling this new crop till they get rid of their old, and if the people of Daviess will not pool we will make them.' It is not our fault that they did not sell before or put up their tobacco unsuitable to buyers."

One Man Stands Pat.

It is understood the "day riders" met C. J. Mosely, an anti-association farmer of the western portion of the county, in the road and stopped him. Mr. Mosely declined to pool his tobacco. He told the delegates that he intended to arm himself and sleep in his barn with his tobacco, and defied any man to disturb his property.

The statement that over 1,000,000 pounds of tobacco had been secured for the pool in the past few days by the army is probably misleading to many who are not familiar with the amount of tobacco grown in Daviess county. Last year nearly 10,000,000 pounds of tobacco was raised in Daviess county, and this year it is claimed that almost an equal amount has been grown.

CAPTAIN OF THE KENTUCKY NOT BLAMED.

Action At Recent Accident Probably Saved Ship From Serious Injury.

Washington, Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Capt. Barry, of the battleship Kentucky, has been exonerated in the investigation on the Kentucky's recent accident in Hampton Roads. It is found that the Captain's course saved the battleship from possibly more serious injury by collision.

Due To Crowded Conditions. Washington, Oct. 25.—The report of the Board of Inquiry in the case of the grounding of the battleship Kentucky on Lambert Point, Hampton Roads, was received at the Navy Department to-day. It is shown that the accident was due to the crowded condition of the roadstead.

SUDDEN SUMMONS TO HANSON PENN DILTZ

AUTHOR AND NEWSPAPER MAN DIES AT HOPKINSVILLE.

TOOK AN OVERDOSE OF CHLORAL TO RELIEVE PAIN.

WROTE POETRY AND FICTION.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Hanson Penn Diltz, author and newspaper correspondent, died to-night at his home in this city from the effects of an opiate taken to relieve pain. He had been ill several days and Thursday evening at his office accidentally swallowed what is supposed to have been an overdose of chloral. He sought the assistance of physicians almost immediately, but soon lapsed into unconsciousness and lay in that condition despite the use of every remedy until he died. He was fifty years of age. When a younger man he edited newspapers at Cincinnati and other Bluegrass towns. He resided here over twenty years. He was author of "The Duchess Undine," "Hollow Bracken," "Dunleath Abbey" and other novels and of "Sands of Silver," a book of poems. He left unfinished a novel of pioneer life in Kentucky, and the manuscript of a drama, "McNeill Ney." He was a member of the Filson Club, of Louisville. Mr. Diltz was unmarried.

Big Sum In Treasury.

The Democratic candidate for Governor discussed the charges made by Mr. Wilson, and in denying its truth gave figures to show that under the administration of the Democrats debt had been paid and more than $1,000,000 will be left in the treasury when the books are turned over to the men elected on November 5.

Judge Hager was introduced here to-day by H. J. Moorman, who declared that the worst Democratic administration was better than the best Republican administration. He spoke for six minutes and roasted the Republicans for militarism and bad government wherever they have been in office. Judge Hager was given a warm welcome. The court room, as large as any in Kentucky, was packed full, and the crowd was estimated at 700. It was representative of this county and was composed largely of farmers.

Prize Democratic Precinct.

Wingo, which is a good Democratic precinct, and has as large a proportion of Democrats as can be found in any precinct in the State, gave Judge Hager a large crowd to-night and much enthusiasm was shown. This meeting was an added one, but it was a success, and it was thought that the effect would be good.

Judge Hager went from Mayfield to Wingo late this afternoon and spent the night here. He will leave there to-morrow morning early and go to La Center by way of Paducah, and will rest over Sunday in the latter place. Graves county is the largest Democratic county in the State, and out of 7,000 voters only about 2,000 of them are Republicans, and the Democrats in Mayfield have been over the county say that this year the majority will be more than 3,000. A vigorous campaign is being made all over the county, and special efforts will be made to get out the vote.

Willson Not Liked.

The fact that the Republican candidate for Governor came here to defend Bob Blanks, charged with criminal assault on a white girl only fourteen years old, will count against him in the county, and the people feel that he interfered in their affairs without justification. This and Mr. Willson's connection with the tobacco trust are being used against him in Graves county with good effect, and it is confidently asserted that the two things together will cost him a large number of votes. A. R. DUNLAP.

CONFERENCE OF THREE GOVERNORS

WILL SEEK TO DECIDE ON POLICY FOR UNITED ACTION ON RAILROAD QUESTION.

Washington, Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Gov. Glenn, of North Carolina, who is in the city received a telegram to-night from Gov. Smith, of Georgia, requesting him to be in Atlanta on Tuesday, where with Gov. Comer, of Alabama, there will be a conference of the three State executives on the rail road situation, in the hope of reaching a common ground for united action. Gov. Glenn wired his acceptance.

FREIGHT HANDLERS GO ON ANOTHER STRIKE AT NEW ORLEANS.

Ten Thousand Quit For Few Hours Because of Railroads' Demand.

New Orleans, Oct. 25.—Ten thousand cotton and freight handlers went on a strike which lasted four and one-half hours to-day. They were the men who returned to work this morning after nearly a month-long sympathetic strike against local steamship interests. To-day's strike was also sympathetic, called because of the refusal of the returning men to sign a three-year contract with the Illinois Central railroad. The strike was settled by the railroad withdrawing its demand at the solicitation of Mayor Behrman, who declared that by standing firm the railroad might ruin the port, at least temporarily.

The disputes which caused the strikes will now be settled by an investigation of port conditions.

WELCOME WAITS OVER THE RIVER

Judge Hager Suggests Move For Dissatisfied Opponent.

Denies That Kentucky Is Behind Sister States.

Candidate Speaks At Mayfield and Wingo.

BANNER PRECINCT OF STATE.

Mayfield, Ky., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—"There are no strings tied to my distinguished opponent and it is only a short distance from his palatial home on Fourth avenue in Louisville, with cars running every few minutes, to the great State of Indiana, and if he does not like Kentucky he can, like the Arab and some other persons I have known, fold his tents and silently steal away to Indiana or some other place where the climate is more salubrious," said Judge S. W. Hager, in the beginning of his speech here this afternoon.

Judge Hager was discussing the charge that Kentucky is forty years behind the other States, as Augustus F. Willson, the Republican candidate for Governor, says in his speeches. "If I believed that Kentucky was forty years behind the times," continued Judge Hager, "I would not stay here. I do not suggest that Mr. Willson move out of the State, but I only say that there is no law compelling him to remain in a State which he thinks is so far behind the times, and I understand that the city of Indianapolis stands with outstretched arms ready to welcome any Kentuckian who finds this State not a good place in which to live. Other Kentuckians have found a welcome there when the climate of Kentucky became unhealthy, and if Mr. Willson does not like this State he can follow the example of those other Kentuckians and go to Indiana."

Bradley At Lebanon.

Lebanon, Ky., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Former Gov. W. O. Bradley spoke this afternoon in the courthouse yard to a crowd estimated at from 500 to 600 persons, fully a third of whom were negroes. His speech was a vigorous defense of his administration, and he characterized as false the charges that he had been made by Democratic orators concerning it. His speech brought much applause from the negroes when he stated referring to the question that many of the colored race were just as good as some of the Democratic leaders, and much better than a great many of the others in the State.

Headley Answers Bradley.

Lebanon, Ky., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Ward Headley, of Princeton, spoke to an enthusiastic audience that filled the courthouse here to-night. Gov. W. O. Bradley spoke here this afternoon, and Headley's speech was a reply to the charges made by Mr. Bradley against the Democratic party.

Temperance Lecture From Wrecked Coach.

CARRIE NATION, RISES FROM DEBRIS TO DENOUNCE GIVING OF WHISKY TO INJURED.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Because a drink of whisky was given to Albert Chapman, the express messenger injured in a wreck on the C. and O. railroad at Klondike to-day, Carrie Nation poured out a round of abuse and standing on an overturned coach, delivered the strongest temperance lecture of her career. She was a passenger on the west-bound passenger train, which was thrown down an embankment while going at high speed. Mrs. Nation escaped from the disaster unscathed and stood thus while other passengers were being rescued.

One of the passengers, who had a quart in his rush to get the cork out of the bottle broke the bottle. There was a scurry to get more whisky, and as the passengers stood on the wreckage and the wreckage was being pulled out, Mrs. Nation began to deliver her lecture. She was taken out of the wreck, apparently fatally injured, some time ago, but the passengers suggested that he be given whisky to revive him.

Second Fire in Gas Company's Plant.

Two Men Are Severely Burned and One of Them May Not Recover.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 25.—By the blowing out of a drip cap on a main leading from the plant of the Chattanooga Gas Company two men were seriously injured at 7 o'clock this evening. General Superintendent S. DeFreese was severely burned about the face and body, and Foreman John Luttrell received serious burns on his arms and hands. The explosion, and considerable damage resulted.

Only yesterday the gas company suffered a loss of $30,000 by an explosion, followed by fire. In the first accident nine men were injured, one fatally.

WILL NOT DEPEND ON REPUBLICAN CHOICE.

Bryan Will Consider Question of Candidacy From Different Standpoint.

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 25.—W. J. Bryan declared to-day that his decision whether to announce himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President will not depend upon the choice of the Republicans. Mr. Bryan authorized the following statement: "Mr. Bryan's decision as to being a candidate will not depend upon who the Republican candidate is. The question of whether I will be a candidate will not depend upon the principles and Democratic advancement."

FAIRBANKS ON TWO DAYS' TOUR

Vice President Swings Over State On Special.

Introduced To Powers Mother As Taylor's Friend.

Makes Nine Speeches To About 16,000 Persons.

FAIR ELECTIONS HIS THEME.

Winchester, Ky., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Charles Warren Fairbanks, Vice President of the United States, closed his first day's tour through Kentucky in the interest of the Republican State ticket by speaking in the opera house in this city to-night to 1,500 people. It is estimated that he spoke to between 15,000 and 16,000 persons to-day at the nine places which he addressed. A conservative estimate is that he addressed in all probability 3,000 actual voters.

The distinguished Indiana citizen, beginning at 8 o'clock this morning spoke at Middleboro, Pineville, Barbourville, Corbin, London and Livingston in the Eleventh Congressional District and Winchester in the Eighth district and Winchester in the Tenth district. The natural curiosity that is so characteristic of the average mountaineer had much to do with Mr. Fairbanks' speaking to large crowds in the Eleventh district. There was a keen desire to view for the first time a real Vice President of the United States. He was cheered more at first sight than he was for anything that he said in his speeches.

Introduced As Taylor's Friend.

His largest crowd which numbered 5,000 was at Barbourville, the home of Caleb Powers, famous for his alleged complicity in the murder of Goebel. It was here that he was introduced by John G. Matthews as the friend of former Gov. W. S. Taylor during his early residence in the capital of Indiana and during the illness and death of his wife. At this juncture to make the occasion more dramatic, Mrs. Elizabeth Powers, the aged mother of Caleb Powers, was brought forth and introduced to the Vice President. In his speech the Vice President did not allude either to Taylor or Powers, but took occasion to ask many questions in an insinuating manner as to whether or not the court dealt fairly and justice was meted out in a righteous manner to those on trial.

Talks of Republican Prosperity.

As is well known, the stereotyped hobby or theme, if it may be so termed, of the Vice President is prosperity. This he did not fail to ring in at length in every speech he made, and, as usual, he never forgot to attribute this unbounded prosperity to the ever-guiding hand of the Republican party. He also declared that the greatest issue in this country was that of the right of every voter to cast his vote and have it counted honestly. His insinuations on this question were anything but to the credit to the people of Kentucky. At London, where the Vice President came in contact with the second largest crowd of the day, he gave spectacular toward the close of his speech, when some one handed him what was purported to be a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State, in which the payment of taxes should be made the qualification to vote. He denounced any measure that tended to disfranchise a voter as infamous. He said that American manhood should be the only qualification for a voter in this great republic.

Bi-Partisan Boards.

In his speech at Winchester to-night he asked the question if the penal and benevolent institutions were being conducted in this State for the welfare and patronage of any political party. He said that such was the case in Indiana several years ago, but now all such institutions were governed by bi-partisan boards. The speaker announced the people of Kentucky to lay aside political differences and take these institutions out of politics.

Mr. Fairbanks again alluded to the fact that Kentucky was to-day suffering from a very bad dose of gerrymandering. He took occasion to assert that his State was once, too, ridden by this course, but now the people had freed themselves for all time to come.

Willson Joins Fairbanks.

Augustus E. Willson, Republican nominee for Governor, met Mr. Fairbanks to-night in Winchester and heard him speak at the Opera house. Mr. Fairbanks frequently alluded to Mr. Willson as Gov. Willson. He said he took this privilege for the reason that he wanted Mr. Willson to get used to the appellation, for he was sure of election in November. Mr. Willson made a short talk after Mr. Fairbanks concluded.

Mr. Willson will accompany the Fairbanks special to-morrow. Judge W. H. Holt, who was left at Barbourville this cal position. As the company has never been adjudged a combination unlawful under the Sherman act, such an adjudication appears to be necessary. But if proof to that effect is furnished, it is not apparent that the fact that there has been no former adjudication is conclusive. If such a decree can be had now, it would seem that it would be sufficient to sustain the action. But the onus of proving the existence of the agreement in restraint of trade would seem to be on the prosecutor.

If this section of the Sherman act can be enforced, it will go far to break up the trust extortions. The trusts naturally take alarm at this action, and they will resist it strenuously. It is rather too much to expect that the Government will be successful in confiscating the trust property so seized. It is pretty generally believed that the Sherman law was not meant to be enforced, being passed to quiet public sentiment. It was hailed as a great achievement, as putting an end to trust activity, but combinations in restraint of trade have mightily increased since it was passed, and the expected results have not been realized.

The questions which the prosecution now raises are of much importance, but it remains to be seen how they will be decided.

A Walker to the Rescue.

Mr. John Brisson Walker, like many and many an honest and self-confident Radical of the benevolent species, has a brain teeming with ideas for the betterment of humanity. They fairly tumble over one another in their effort to get out and do their appointed task. As a rule they take much too little actual, or accurate, measurement of things real; of distance, of proportion, and, above all, of the infirmities of nature and the inequalities of mortal man. In their impatience they leap at conclusions.

With respect to Mr. Walker, however, there is mixed in with the theorizing a deal of knowledge of affairs and a truthfulness of spirit and purpose which give to what he says an air of the practical at variance with the world as it is.

This indeed is, and has always been, the weak spot with the plotters of movement—the leaders of the new departures—in Government, giving some to Statesmen and sometimes to Charlatans the opportunity to reap where the thinkers had sown, not infrequently a very different crop.

In his "Monthly Analysis of Public Affairs" for October, Mr. Walker takes for his thesis "Theodore Roosevelt; the Man, His Promises and His Policies," with some reference to "the State of Parties and the Presidential Succession." The canvas is broad. The subject matter is large. The treatment is at least interesting. Theodore Roosevelt is here told in the opening sentence "is the most popular idol America has ever produced." In the end Mr. Walker shows his "popular idol" to be made of clay and of very inferior clay. A Free Trader until he got the offer of a career from the Protectionists, a Civil Service Apostle until he found it expedient to capture the organization of his party by trafficking with its most discredited, but most powerful and practical politicians; a Governor of New York having guilty knowledge of the corruptions in High Finance, of whose exposure and prosecution he has as President made himself the hero. Mr. Walker does not dwell upon the fantastic and spectacular features of Mr. Roosevelt's popularity. Ignoring his genius as a showman he contents himself with proving, to his own satisfaction, that he is but a sham reformer, not at all in the class with La Follette and Hearst, not to mention William Jennings Bryan.

None of these latter, however, goes fast enough and far enough quick to meet Mr. Walker's requirement. And, what is this? The purification of the public service; the estoppel of grafting in all its forms, the bribery of legislatures, the subversion of newspapers, buying of votes and courts of law, all aimed to the granting of special privileges to the few at the expense of the many. And how is this estoppel to be accomplished? By the public ownership of the public utilities, the Railways, the Street Car lines, the Telegraph and Telephones, the Light and Water Supplies, even the Parcels Deliveries and the Insurance of Families. Take all these out of private hands and put them in the hands of the Government—which according to Mr. Walker, is the People—and all shall be well.

Mr. Walker tells us of a wonderful person out in Oklahoma by the name of Nagle—Patrick Nagle. We shall fully Unable To Attend The Friars Dinner.

NEW YORK FRIENDS INVITED TO KENTUCKY.
HEARST AND HIS NEWSPAPERS MAKING THINGS LIVELY.
FURNISHES CAMPAIGN GINGER.

New York, Oct. 25.—(Special.)—The Friars' Club, of New York, is a very notable organization. It embraces the Advertising Men and the Advance Agents of the Theaters and the Theatrical Syndicates, and is quite a thousand strong in its membership. The scheme of the Friars to give the Editor of the Courier-Journal a public dinner took like hot cakes. Great preparations were made and high jinks provided, when word came from Louisville that Mr. Watterson could not be in the Metropolis the 24th of October, the date appointed. Everybody's heart was broken. The 2d of November was then substituted, but, at the last moment, it was given out that that, too, was impracticable. Now, in response to a third call, comes the following letter, which has caused the Friars to put crepe on their front door and the show world to go for a season into mourning:

Mr. Watterson's Letter.

Gentlemen: It is best to make a clean breast of it! I am a victim to my own ungovernable vanity. I meant to be in New York the 24th of October, but, as a matter of fact, I was there, and I meant to be in New York the 2d of November, and, as a matter of fact, that is impossible; and, therefore, I have a tale told to the world and too awful to relate, other than to say that the confusion was the work of the office cat.

You are good enough to ask me to name another date. I dare not do it. I am a victim to my own ungovernable vanity. I meant to be in New York the 24th of October, but, as a matter of fact, I was there, and I meant to be in New York the 2d of November, and, as a matter of fact, that is impossible; and, therefore, I have a tale told to the world and too awful to relate, other than to say that the confusion was the work of the office cat.

But I must save myself the ascription of guilt of violation, or impropriety. I was greatly pleased and honored by your hospitable invitation. Most of you are young gentlemen who have graduated out of the newspaper business into the show business. That makes at once a community of sympathy and interest. I want to tell you to you. Only the wires were quick enough to convey my messages. Unhappily I am still a working journalist with more than even of responsibility and care. I am not a man of leisure. I want to tell you to you. Only the wires were quick enough to convey my messages. Unhappily I am still a working journalist with more than even of responsibility and care. I am not a man of leisure.

Street Numbers Must Be Displayed.

He managed to drag himself away from the track and remained there until early yesterday morning, when Fred Metzger found him in a semi-conscious condition from the loss of blood. He was at once taken to the Mercy Hospital, where he was brought to the Mercy Hospital late in the day.

Unpaid Doctor Bills.
Many in the medical profession are complaining because a garnishment act passed in a measure for their benefit to protect them against dead-beats is not properly enforced. The law in effect is that where a judgment is obtained against persons for such necessities as medical services and they own over a certain weekly salary, a part of it can be applied by the court to the payment of their indebtedness. Despite the fact that the statute fills a long felt want, no one ever hears of its enforcement. The number of physicians who sustain losses through unpaid bills is beginning to grow, and the lawyers about the matter.

Morse From Maine.
Charles W. Morse, whose name has been frequently in the public eye during the past week in connection with the scandals in banking circles, hails from Maine. He first came to public notice when he was charged with the extortion of Mayor Van Wyck. This was in connection with the Ice Trust. It had only been formed a short time before Morse and the Mayor and John F. Carroll, who was deputy leader of Tammany Hall, were the main stockholders. It was because of this Tammany influence that all competitors of the company have had their privileges cancelled and in consequence could do no business in New York. The trust then attempted to put up the price of ice. This caused the public and steps were taken to dissolve it and also force the Dock Department to allow the other competitors to compete on equal terms before the public eye in connection with the notorious Morse-Dodge divorce scandal, often written about in these columns. He is now understood to be largely interested in steamship lines.

The enormous wealth accumulated by the group of men in the street railway systems of New York, Chicago and other cities, representing a capitalization of $1,000,000,000, is the subject of a series of articles by Burton J. Hendrick, of the staff of McClure's. The first of these articles appears in the November number and describes the operations in New York City of the syndicate headed by Thomas F. Ryan, controlling the Metropolitan Street Railway and its allied lines. The story of how these men obtained possession of the greatest transit monopoly in the world, and the uses they have made of it, involves many dramatic instances and contains notable character studies of some of the foremost business men of the last twenty-five years.

FINE BATTLE NON-PARTISAN

WON BY PURPLE

University School Team Gives High School a Warm Argument.

ONE OF BEST GAMES OF YEAR.

Will Duffy, playing under a handicap, is easily star of the brilliant contest.

YOUNGSTERS' GOOD SHOWING.

The close of one of the best football battles of the local season left the field with the long end of a 5-4 score against University School to credit. Spectators who had seen the other games of the year were unanimous in pronouncing yesterday's contest the most satisfactory exhibition of the new game seen thus far this fall.

High School scored her winning touchdown after fifteen minutes of the hard-fought play in the first half. University's points were made on a goal from placement by Arthur, kicked from the twenty-yard line in the second half.

The element of luck was against High School, as time was called in the first half with the ball in the Purple's possession on University's four-yard line, and B. Fox missed a goal from the field when the ball struck one of the uprights. University rallied splendidly, however, and after a hard-fought struggle, won the game by a 5-4 score.

Duffy the Individual Star.

Will Duffy was easily the individual star of the game. Playing under a handicap, with a carbuncle on his neck, he several times saved High School from defeat. Once he broke through and blocked a kick which seemed sure to go over the bar, and several times he managed to retrieve the ball after the Purple and White had kicked. Duffy, with Leeb worked a neat forward pass, and he gave High School a chance for another touchdown by swooping down upon the ball after it had bounced off the goal post after a try at goal from field, only to have his teammates lose it on a fumble.

Capt. Fox, who had chosen to defend the west goal, B. Fox kicked off for High School. Arthur, running the ball back several yards, was tackled by Leeb, only a couple of yards on two line backs, and Arthur tried an on-side kick, which, however, was blocked by Leeb. Leeb, who had been tackled by Leeb, only to lose the ball on a fumble on the next down. Arthur, failing on it, on his own seven-yard line.

Duffy fumbled Wedekind's punt, and, coming down the field like a wind, fell on the ball for a thirty-yard gain for University. Duffy, who had been tackled by Leeb, only to lose the ball on a fumble on the next down. Arthur, failing on it, on his own seven-yard line.

Triple Tandem Formation.

University tried a triple tandem formation with good success, but just as things were running smoothly, they were interrupted by a hard-fought struggle. After an exchange of punts by Arthur and Leeb, Duffy broke through and pinned Arthur for a big loss. B. Fox gave Leeb good work, and Leeb, who had been tackled by Leeb, only to lose the ball on a fumble on the next down. Arthur, failing on it, on his own seven-yard line.

University Takes a Big Brace.

In the second half, University took a big brace, and for a time threatened to march down the field for a touchdown. Wedekind kicked off to University, and was stopped by Hays. Two hard-fought passes, followed by fifteen yards before he kicked. Failing to negotiate the distance, Arthur punted, giving pinning B. Fox as he caught the ball. Leeb fumbled a pass momentarily, and then kicked on the ground, Lindsey falling on the ball. Arthur plowed through center for ten yards. After Fox had kicked the ball back, Arthur booted the oval over the bar from the twenty-yard line. Score: High School 5, University 4.

Arthur, after Hays had failed for fifteen yards in running back B. Fox's kickoff, on a fumble by Leeb, was tackled by Leeb, only to lose the ball on a fumble on the next down. Arthur, failing on it, on his own seven-yard line.
